

My local radio stations aren't playing local artists. My local TV stations' news broadcasts are filled with fluff rather than useful information I need as a citizen. The content of all my local media seems aimed at the urban middle class, ignoring the rural areas and those with lower incomes. In short, I do not believe my local media are adequately serving my community.